

Y. W. C. A. WORK IS A SUCCESS

National Organizer, After Successful Visit, Leaves for Other Fields.

HOW THE WORK IS DIVIDED

ASSOCIATION SYSTEMATIZES ITS LABOR UNDER VARIOUS HEADS.

Mrs. Lester McClain, Jr., who has spent the past five weeks in the city organizing and perfecting the work of the Y. W. C. A., left last evening for her home in Denver. Mrs. McClain came here representing the American committee of the organization, as well as the world's committee, and during her stay the local branch has become affiliated with the two larger branches. It is now working under the same general board.

The work done by Mrs. McClain has consisted largely of mapping out and defining more clearly the work done in the various places where branches exist, and arranging the local work under committees working under a board of directors.

How Work is Divided.
The work will be carried on in four divisions, religious, educational, social and financial, various committees being in charge of each. During her stay Mrs. McClain has made numerous addresses in the churches of the city with a view to bringing before the people the exact work of the organization which she represents. She has found the people of Salt Lake enthusiastic in the work, and has had the heartiest co-operation and sympathy. Some have given largely and others according to their means, and by means of these gifts the association now finds itself on a firm financial basis and able to call a trained secretary who will begin work in September. When this is done the various divisions will be in practical working order.

Since the home at 555 Second East street was opened it has been filled constantly, and the demand has exceeded the supply. Arrangements have been made, however, of a temporary nature with the Collegiate Institute to house some of the applicants there during the summer while their meals are served at the home.

Meet Women at Stations.

One feature of the work which has proven of great value is the meeting or directing of young women at railway stations. Cards have been placed in the stations directing travelers to the home, and many have come seeking place to board. One room is kept for transients and this room has never been unoccupied. The lunch room recently opened has been combined with the regular dining room and the room formerly used for it is now a rest room fitted with couches, etc.

Besides all these the association has been able from its inception to provide work both office and household, for all the young women applying, and this branch already so successful will continue in connection with the others. A general service is held each Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and every Thursday evening, the "at home" day, an informal musicale with the young women of the branch already so successful will continue in connection with the others. A general service is held each Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and every Thursday evening, the "at home" day, an informal musicale with the young women of the branch already so successful will continue in connection with the others.

"LORD" HOPE NOT ABROAD

Boston Gum Shoe Detectives Have Fruitless Search.

It was sailing time at the White Star dock, says the Boston Journal. The British orchestra of the steamer was struggling valiantly with the "Stars and Stripes." Fore and aft were cheering, and the passengers were shouting last messages. Suddenly two men with noiseless tread moved up the gangway.

"You can't go aboard," said the sailor at his head.

"That," said the foremost man, "I am a detective."

"Well," said the sailor, "I ain't done nothing."

"We must search the ship," said the detective, flashing a badge. "Pushing past the sailor the men gained the deck."

"We are looking for Lord Beresford Hope," said the first detective to the purser of the ship.

Accordingly they stalked along the decks, through the stateroom alleys, peering into every nook and cranny.

Several stateroom passengers who were making love in dark corners, and persisting until every foot of space of the past stateroom accommodations had been covered.

One of the detectives started then to explore the hold, but was held back by a narrow passage being dropped with rapidity from above, they gave it up as a bad job, and went ashore without their man.

BODY IS RECOVERED.

No Inquest Held on Remains of Man Drowned in Lagoon.

After working all Wednesday night the searchers for the body of John Selgrath, drowned at Lagoon, were successful at 9 o'clock yesterday morning.

Charles Selgrath, brother of deceased, was present when the body was taken from the West Lagoon after the waters of the lake had been drained time and time again. It was in about twelve feet of water near the northwest corner and fifty feet from the shore. No inquest has been held.

Selgrath leaves a widow but no children. He was an employee of the Rio Grande Western and was boating on the lake with a friend, Emil Anderson, about 9:30 Wednesday evening, when their craft capsized. Anderson got safely to shore, but Selgrath's body never came up.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

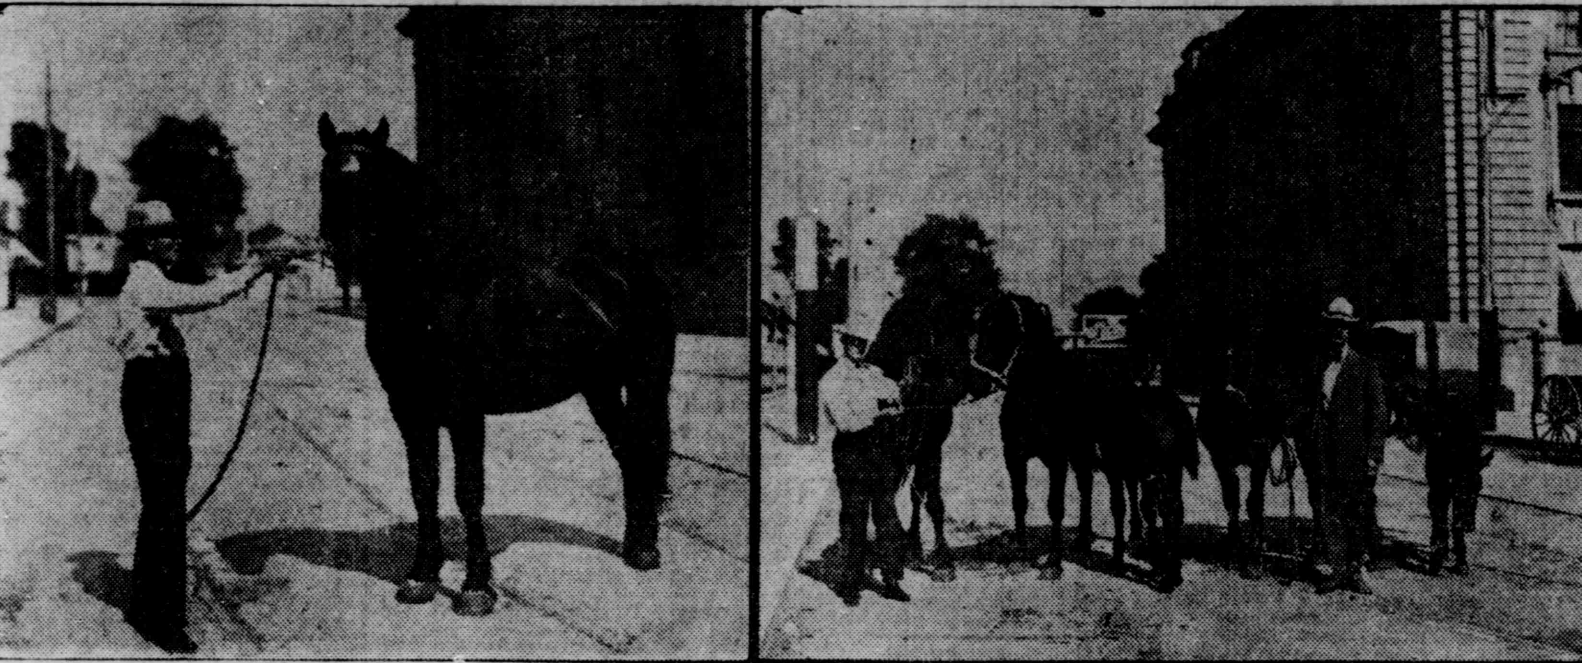

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been decided upon.

FINE REGISTERED PERCHERONS BROUGHT TO SALT LAKE

Stallion, Weight 1,900 Pounds.

Brood Mares and Colts. —Photos by Harry Shipley.

Percherons at their best are regarded by horse fanciers as being among the most magnificent of animals. J. P. Gardner has just purchased seven splendid specimens for his ranch in Pahrump Valley, Nevada, and they come as close to perfection as the breed can get.

MERCURY CLIMBS TO 93 DEGREES, MAKING HOTTEST DAY SO FAR THIS YEAR

Was it hot yesterday?

Ask the man—the weather man.

If you would he will tell you that the temperature recorded 93 degrees Fahrenheit at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. That isn't as hot weather as the town has seen in other summers, but it is nevertheless the hottest of this season.

The mercurial business compiled them to trudge the pavements didn't need any assurance from the man behind the thermometer that the day was the hottest of the season. It was. There was no doubt about it. Any kind of shade was welcome. Any kind of a wheezy electric fan was regarded as a boon—actually a boon.

The soda fountains played to large houses, while the mint market and the sale of malt fluids was in keeping with the rise of the mercury.

There may be hotter days yet to come. In fact, it is likely that hotter days will come. Nevertheless, the fact still stands, big and indisputable, that yesterday was a hot day—the hottest of the season, so far.

For today the weather man will endeavor to serve a more moderate forecast. "Partly cloudy," he announces in his forecast, for which the sweltering public will probably be thankful.

There is no better stock in the country. These handsome animals arrived yesterday and are being stabled on Market street. They will be taken out Saturday morning, via Caliente, to the Gardner Ranch company's ranch of 8,000 acres in Pahrump Valley.

MAN FROM SEARCHLIGHT TELLS OF LIFE AND ITS PLEASURES ON NEVADA DESERT

"Life on the Nevada desert is not so Sahara-like as you might imagine," remarked H. G. Gorin, formerly a Salt Lake newspaper man, and more recently of Searchlight, Nev., yesterday. "It is true that in some instances we have to stand behind a lead pencil to get in the shade, and occasionally while taking a 'hike' through the 'Joshuas' and greasewood bushes one has to be a bit particular about choosing between treading upon a rattler or a Gila monster, but taking freshish nature has a lot to offer, and by no means a dangerous environment."

"Attracted by the deposits of precious metals which abound everywhere in that country, men have gathered from every spot on the globe, and before becoming denizens of the desert they represented about every walk in life. This is what makes the warp and woof of the population one hospitable, sociable, sympathetic mass of good fellowship, and promotes a feeling of comradeship which is difficult to explain and hard to get away from."

"It is true that the sun works over time during the day, the temperature has to be placed on top of thermometer bulbs to restrain the surging mercury, but the nights are more than tropical in their refreshing coolness and after the heat of the day the nocturnal relief is so wholesome and invigorating that one entirely forgets the perspiration of the preceding hours."

"Every day brings news of rich discoveries of minerals in one form or another, each 'find' putting fresh hope in the hearts of hardy prospectors who may have previously tilled among the scorching rocks without tangible results. Good news in the desert makes hope more responsive than any place I ever saw. You can't down a 'desert rat.' He is there to stay, because he knows that his efforts are bound to be rewarded."

"Social life has its picturesque phases there, as in every country where human beings are separated from the gay dash of city life. But with all the seeming impossibility of intelligently massing together such a mixed up lot of people the morality average is high, and the tone of the true gentility prevails."

"For a young man who has health, strength and character, it is the best place I ever struck to bring out what is in him. A fellow can't fudge down there—he has either got to go through like a thoroughbred or step on the side track and watch the rest go by."

LOCAL BRIEFS

BANK CLEARINGS.—Salt Lake bank clearings yesterday amounted to $29,425.00.

GREEK ACCUSED OF ASSAULT.—A Greek named Josh Tellis was brought in yesterday from Garfield, where he is employed at the smelters. He is charged with assault and it is claimed that he hit his fellow workman on the head with a rock.

FALSE ALARM CALLS DEPART.—The fire department received a call last evening from Second East and Third South streets. After a quick run it was discovered that what was supposed to be a blaze was only the reflection of a bottle in a plate glass window.

BOY SAID TO BE THIEF.—Andrew Johnson, a boy under age, was brought to Salt Lake yesterday by Sheriff Blair of Summit county, from Park City, where he is charged with the theft of $12 from a woman. He was confined in the county jail last night and will be taken to the industrial school this morning.

FUNERAL OF MRS. HARRINGTON.—The funeral of Mrs. Lucy Harrington was held at the family residence, 1329 Tenth street, yesterday afternoon. The deceased was a member for many years of the Eastern Star lodge, of which she was filled with friends.

The body was shipped to Nebraska for burial.

A CLINE IS ARRESTED.—A Cline, a pawnbroker at 89 Commercial street, was arrested yesterday upon a warrant charging him with keeping combustibles about his premises. Cline appeared in court yesterday and was released on $100 bail.

His case will be heard this afternoon. Assistant Fire Chief Byron Crosby is the complaining witness.

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The Salt Lake County Horticultural society will meet at 1 o'clock tomorrow in Room 256 in the furniture market, and they will adopt standard fruit boxes and standard measures for fruits and berries will come before the meeting, and a question will be decided by the late N. D. Jensen as secretary of the society.

COSMOPOLITAN LIST.—The register of the Knutsford yesterday, besides a long list of visitors from the United States and Canada, bore the names of Baron F. Hye of Vienna, Austria; Wolfgang Koepf, Leipzig, Germany; and Mrs. Post, Vienna, Austria; F. Holland, Paris; N. Kostenko, Smolensk, Russia; and several from England, Scotland, and Ireland.

BATTERY CASES HEARD.—George Parker and W. T. Tepler were arraigned yesterday before Judge C. B. Diehl, charged with assault and battery upon John Allen, charged with assault and battery upon John Allen, charged with assault and battery upon John Allen.

Tepler's case was continued until today pending an investigation into an allegation made by the defendant that Amick made a gun play before he struck him.

JOHN ALLEN ON TRIAL.—The case of John Allen, charged with assault and battery upon John Allen, charged with assault and battery upon John Allen, charged with assault and battery upon John Allen.

Allen was called yesterday before Judge Dana T. Smith. Mrs. Allen was present and stood during the entire session of the court. Assistant County Attorney Willard Hansen is prosecuting the case, and O. Leatherwood represents the defendant. The case will be concluded at this morning's session of Judge Smith's court.

LAST RITES FOR MRS. SLOAN.

Funeral of Railroad Man's Wife Is Held at Unity Hall.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Lawrence G. Sloan were held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the First Unitarian church. They were conducted by Rev. Frank Eddy. During the services the Unity quartet rendered "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and "I Need Thee Every Hour." The interment was at the City cemetery. There were many beautiful floral offerings. The pallbearers were Thomas Sawyer of Grand Junction, Edmund G. Brown, Harry Godwin, H. J. Rivera, Charles Olsen and G. H. Raybold.

Mrs. Sloan died in Long Beach Monday and was brought to Salt Lake for burial. She was born in Salt Lake, the daughter of Mr. George Sloan, a pioneer settler.

Her husband, Mr. Lawrence Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city. She is survived by Mrs. George Teasdale, Mrs. John Busby and Mrs. Orvin Morris. Her husband, Mr. Sloan, was a prominent business man in the city.

MAN FROM SEARCHLIGHT TELLS OF LIFE AND ITS PLEASURES ON NEVADA DESERT

"Life on the Nevada desert is not so Sahara-like as you might imagine," remarked H. G. Gorin, formerly a Salt Lake newspaper man, and more recently of Searchlight, Nev., yesterday. "It is true that in some instances we have to stand behind a lead pencil to get in the shade, and occasionally while taking a 'hike' through the 'Joshuas' and greasewood bushes one has to be a bit particular about choosing between treading upon a rattler or a Gila monster, but taking freshish nature has a lot to offer, and by no means a dangerous environment."

"Attracted by the deposits of precious metals which abound everywhere in that country, men have gathered from every spot on the globe, and before becoming denizens of the desert they represented about every walk in life. This is what makes the warp and woof of the population one hospitable, sociable, sympathetic mass of good fellowship, and promotes a feeling of comradeship which is difficult to explain and hard to get away from."

"It is true that the sun works over time during the day, the temperature has to be placed on top of thermometer bulbs to restrain the surging mercury, but the nights are more than tropical in their refreshing coolness and after the heat of the day the nocturnal relief is so wholesome and invigorating that one entirely forgets the perspiration of the preceding hours."

"Every day brings news of rich discoveries of minerals in one form or another, each 'find' putting fresh hope in the hearts of hardy prospectors who may have previously tilled among the scorching rocks without tangible results. Good news in the desert makes hope more responsive than any place I ever saw. You can't down a 'desert rat.' He is there to stay, because he knows that his efforts are bound to be rewarded."

"Social life has its picturesque phases there, as in every country where human beings are separated from the gay dash of city life. But with all the seeming impossibility of intelligently massing together such a mixed up lot of people the morality average is high, and the tone of the true gentility prevails."

"For a young man who has health, strength and character, it is the best place I ever struck to bring out what is in him. A fellow can't fudge down there—he has either got to go through like a thoroughbred or step on the side track and watch the rest go by."

CHAMBERS IS EXONERATED

Council Committee Refuses to Act on Charges Against Colored Policeman.

Police Officer W. H. Chambers (colored) was exonerated from the charges preferred against him by Henry Bogan, a colored politician, by the police committee of the city council last night. Bogan was present, supported by a number of colored men, but during the course of a long harangue, he made only one specific charge against Chambers. This was that about six weeks ago Chambers said by and saw Bruce Johnson, proprietor of a colored club, deal him (Bogan) a crooked "black-jack" hand without offering a protest. Chambers denied this, and Bogan offered no evidence to substantiate it.

Bogan made the general charge that Chambers makes it his business to run out of town colored men, who do not like their money in the clubs run by Bruce Johnson and one Hatfield. He offered no proof of this charge. One or two colored men said along this line that Chambers does not respect colored men, and one of them remarked that colored men "who don't give Chambers his bit" are subject to petty persecution at his hands. This allegation was not backed by proof.

James D. Carter, who works for W. H. Bancroft, general manager of the Oregon Short Line, made a speech in Chambers' behalf.

Chief of Police George A. Sheets told the committee that he was satisfied with Chambers as an officer. He declared that the signatures which Bogan had secured to his petition were largely those of the vicious colored element of the city.

The committee voted unanimously to file Bogan's charges without action, which was tantamount to an exoneration of the accused officer.

Notice, Personal.

Ong Yip Sing, owing to press of business, will not return to Salt Lake until about Aug. 1.

PERSONAL.

George W. Irvin, pioneer of Montana and at present postmaster of Butte, is in the city.

Dr. G. V. L. Brown of Milwaukee, who has a national reputation as a hare lip specialist, is in the city, and will perform an operation at Holy Cross hospital today.

United States Senator Fred T. Dubois of Idaho will arrive in Salt Lake this morning. He is on his way to Blackfoot, Idaho, for the national capital. Apartments have been engaged for him at the Knutsford hotel, and he is expected to remain here a day or two.

Fun for all at Calder's park.

People in America

Do not consume half enough olive oil. Everybody should eat and drink it whenever the opportunity affords. Do not do without it a day of your life. It is the greatest lubricant for the human system, and the MALTESSE CROSS BRAND OF OLIVE OIL is the best of all of them. It never turns rancid, its purity is perfect. We sell it from the pint to the gallon at 75 cents the pint.

SCHRAMM'S

WHERE THE CARS STOP.

THE GREAT PRESCRIPTION

DRUG STORE.

Many a Bostonian matron has discontinued baking with Pork and Beans since the MOUNT make came into vogue.

Offices for Rent.

The Capital R. E. I. Co. has desk room and ground floor offices for rent in their commodious quarters, No. 17 West Second South. There is no better location in the city.

S. D. Evans,

Undertaker and embalmer, removed to new location, 48 South State street.

Many a Bostonian matron has discontinued baking with Pork and Beans since the MOUNT make came into vogue.

Many a Bostonian matron has discontinued baking with Pork and Beans since the MOUNT make came into vogue.

Many a Bostonian matron has discontinued baking with Pork and Beans since the MOUNT make came into vogue.

Many a Bostonian matron has discontinued baking with Pork and Beans since the MOUNT make came into vogue.

Many a Bostonian matron has discontinued baking with Pork and Beans since the MOUNT make came into vogue.

Many a Bostonian matron has discontinued baking with Pork and Beans since the MOUNT make came into vogue.

Many a Bostonian matron has discontinued baking with Pork and Beans since the MOUNT make came into vogue.

Many a Bostonian matron has discontinued baking with Pork and Beans since the MOUNT make came into vogue.

Many a Bostonian matron has discontinued baking with Pork and Beans since the MOUNT make came into vogue.

Many a Bostonian matron has discontinued baking with Pork